NominationsOpen To Organizations For Civic Award

Nomination forms have been mailed to all local organizations to submit their choice for the annual McCullin Civic Award, to be presented at the Chamber of Commerce banquet later this year.

The award is presented to the outstanding citizen each year and is based on three major phases of community interests: contribution to the spritual life of the community, influence for good for the youth of the community, and contribution to civic, cultural, and commercial life of the community.

After all nominations are submitted the final selection is made by a secret committee composed of representatives from each group making a nomination.

Those who have received the award in the past years are: E. A. Perrin, Rev. John Solomon, Mrs. Mark C. Magers, Jimmy Asher, Lester Williams, Ben Magness, Mrs. Dana Monroe, Richard Moseley, Francis Cox, Dr. S. H. Richardson, Don G. Humble, Narvie Caperton.

Also, Forrest Sapp, Gene Smitherman, Miss Mildred Thornton, Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Albert Collins, Felix Matula Jr., A. W. McCullin Sr., Fredwill Hornung, and last year's winner, Rev. James Lafferty.

The award was donated in 1951 by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCullin Sr. to recognize citizens who have given of themselves to the community. Every club and organization is invited to submit a nomination at the Chamber of Commerce office. Deadline for submitting a nomination is February 16.

Blood Quota Topped

The Central Texas Red Cross Bloodmobile collected 80 units of blood in a short-notice visit Tuesday at the Cameron Community Center. This is 7 units over the city's quota. Mrs. Glenda Moseley, blood program chairman, expressed appreciation to all the donors who came and donated blood.

VOE Class To Organize

There will be an organizational meeting for a VOE bookkeeping class at Cameron Junior High School at 7 p.m. Thursday night. Any adult with a GED or high school education is eligible to enroll in the class.

Lawmen Have Busy Weekend

Milam County lawmen had a busy weekend as arrests were made in Cameron and Rockdale for a shooting, rape, and possession of marijuana. The arrests were made by the sheriff and city police. Also, several traffic accidents were reported by the Highway Patrol.

A shooting incident in a Rockdale nightspot Saturday night left one man injured and the other facing charges of assault with intent to murder, according to Sheriff Carl Black.

Floyd Lee Rivers of Rockdale was charged in Justice of the peace Jess Brock's Court with assault with intent to murder for allegedly shooting Charles Bird, also of Rockdale, in the face with a .410 shotgun.

Bird was taken to Richards Hospital in Rockdale for emergency treatment and was transferred to Scott and White Hospital at Temple where he was treated and released.

Two young men have been charged in Justice of the Peace Jess Brock's court with rape and accomplice to rape following their arrest by Sheriff Carl Black Sunday night in Cameron.

Charged with rape was Steven Lynn Bilbrey, 18, of Temple. He is in county jail in lieu of $5000 bond. Charged as his accomplice was Jimmy Dale Williams, 20, of Caldwell and Cameron. He posted $2500 bond and was released.

The men are charged in the rape of an 18-year-old Cameron girl. The sheriff said she was picked up in Cameron and taken out of town Sunday night.

The men were arrested at the Milam Motel shortly after the reported offense took place.

Four young Ft. Hood soldiers were in Milam County jail Tuesday morning following their arrest by Cameron police Monday night. They were all charged in Justice of the Peace Court with possession of marijuana.

Police officer Wayne Brinkley arrested the men on West 6th St. about 10 p.m. Monday night. Bond was set at $2,000 each.

Arrested were Chester Ellis, David A. Thomas, Roy L. Jones and Horace Brewer, whose ages range from 21 to 24 years.

Highway Patrolman Larry Hester of Rockdale investigated two accidents over the weekend with minor injuries reported along with heavy damage to vehicles.

A three-car accident Saturday morning four miles west of Cameron on Highway 36 did considerable damage to vehicles but no injuries were reported.

Drivers of the cars were Harry P. Sanchez of Jacksonville, Fla.; Lawrence Bauer of Rt. 1, Cameron and Ike Hardgrove of Rt. 1, Cameron.

The accident occurred when Hardgrove'es vehicle hit the Bauer car in the rear, knocking it in front of the Sanchez car. Hardgrove and Bauer were traveling west, and Sanchez was traveling east.

An icy road was blamed Friday in an accident near Gause on Highway 79. A car driven by Mark Allen Webber of Austin was passing a car when it hit a patch of ice and slammed into a car driven by Donald Lee Reddell of A&M University, Bryan.

Reddell and his wife were treated for minor injuries, but their three children, riding in the car, were not hurt. Webber was also treated for minor injuries received in the accident.

Students, Patrons Hear Concerts By Dallas Symphony

An enthusiastic crowd of near 550 gave the Dallas Symphony Orchestra a standing ovation at the close of its evening concert in National Guard Armory Tuesday.

Earlier in the day in an afternoon concert the orchestra played to over 700 students from Cameron and surrounding schools, with a special program designed for them.

Groups attended from Buckholts, Maysfield, Rogers, Rockdale and Thorndale.

The program was varied and included Roman Carnival Overture, Opus 9 by Berlioz; Tod Un Verdlarung (Death and Transfiguration) Symphonic Poem, Opus 24 by Strauss, Symphony No. 4 in A Major, Opus 90, by Mendelssohn; and Suite from the Firebird by Stravinsky.

The orchestra added two encores to the program.

In introducing the orchestra, Frank Luecke, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Symphony Committee, told the audience that plans were already confirmed for a return engagement of the symphony in March, 1974.

A reception at the Cameron Public Library followed the concert Tuesday evening.

Contributions from the Texas Fine Arts Commission, an endowment from the Alcoa Foundation and individual patrons funded the expenses of the orchestra.

It was the second concert in Cameron by the Dallas orchestra.

Lions To View MOD Film

A film, "Tomorrow Happened Today," will be shown to the Noon Lions Monday as a phase of the 1973 March of Dimes. Paul Olbrich is in charge of the program.

A PASSENGER TRAIN. . . .

. . . . . that stops in Cameron and goes on to Laredo three days a week? ? ? ? ?

That's what is scheduled by Amtrak, starting January 27.

A prior St. Louis-Mexico routing already funded by Congress has been junked.

A Chicago-Mexico run goes in its place, including the stops at McGregor, Temple, Cameron, Milano, Austin, San Marcos, San Antonio and Laredo. The Mexico run will originate in Fort Worth.

It connects at Laredo with Amtrak bus service, allowing an hour and a half for a border crossing and boarding an Aztek Eagle to Mexico City.

Amtrak is running on Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific railroads. This train will be called the Inter-American, including deluxe day coaches and a diner.

The return run by the Inter-American is the same route, requiring an over night stop in Fort Worth for passengers going on north.

Cong. Bob Poage says it would have been logical to run the train over the Katy tracks to Waco.

Whatever, this is the first scheduled passenger stop for Cameron on the Santa Fe in years. The pattern has been to take away service, including passenger and the mails. And the U. S. Mails have had quite a period of adjustment in service through trucks and sectional centers.

113-113-113

Thanks to Cameron and, indeed, Milam County, for their splendid support of Dallas Symphony. About 800 youngsters filled to capacity the Cameron Guard Armory Tuesday afternoon from Cameron, Rockdale, Buckholts, Thorndale, Rogers and perhaps other districts in the area.

The turnout Tuesday evening was about 525, not including about 80 seats sold in Temple which were not filled because of conflicting activities.

The orchestra played well and it was a splendid day. "Symphony Day" as proclaimed by County Judge O. B. Harden.

Starting Another Stop...

A ceasefire or truce may be in the offing with increasing activity for Henry Kissinger, the Florida White House and Hanoi.

What appeared a certain settlement before Christmas dissolved in changing alternatives and renewed bombing, which this week again was halted.

Plans for strengthening U. S. position in Western Europe and working out domestic problems compel the Administration to seek a settlement in Vietnam, one thought imminent in late fall.

The renewed bombing may have had the effect needed. It raised fewer hackles in this country than previous power moves by the President.

It would seem Hanoi wants this to end. But their stoic position, complicated by the complex negotiations involving Hanoi, Washington, Saigon at the Paris Peace Talks, is a condition of oriental diplomacy penetrated by communist determination.

They know we want out, play world opinion for all it is worth, the U. S. coming off the "heavy" every time it attempts to maintain commitments which are broad, even though the domino theory is in disrepute and all but U. S. support troops and U. S. Air Force personnel have been withdrawn.

Outside influence from Peking and Moscow may press Hanoi back our way to close down this unfortunate, complex war.

Masai In Trouble Again

By Nicholas Moore

NAIROBI

The proud, haughty Masai are in trouble again with their trousers - or lack of them.

The roving cattle-herdsmen of East Africa, who migrate across the great plains of Tanzania and Kenya with the cattle they covet above all else, are coming under increasing pressure to conform to the standards of modern urban life.

In Tanzania, President Julius Nyerere's government insists that the Masai male wear trousers instead of the traditional single loosely - draped blanket that barely covers them.

For the most part the lithe, handsome Masai continue to cling to their ancient, free-roving, nomadic way of life, spurning the trappings and ideals of modern living.

They received support recently from an unexpected quarter -- a Nairobi magistrate upheld the right of a Masai moran (warrior) to bear arms on a public highway.

Police had charged Anana Musot, a tall, blanket-clad moran, with carrying offensive weapons. He was carrying his traditional spears as he escorted his womenfolk along a dusty trail on the Magadi road south of here.

Charge dismissed, the magistrate declared, but Musot was then slapped with a fine of about 38 dollars for failing to pay his taxes for the last three years.

President Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya is seeking to bring the advantages of modern public health techniques to the Masai - the tribe has a high incidence of venereal disease - and to teach them how they can earn good money by ranching herds of high-quality beef stock.

Kenyan authorities are also attempting to induce the Masai to abandon their age-old tribal fights and their propensity toward cattle rustling.

One of the Masai's obligatory tribal customs in times past required a young male to blood his spear either by slaying another man or a lion, before he could be recognized as attaining manhood.

In more recent times, with the spread of a code of law based on the justice of the white man, who opened up and colonized much of East Africa, the young Masai has often had to attain his manhood by stealing some prime head of cattle from someone else's herd.

But old customs die hard, even today. One of the biggest tribal clashes of recent years occurred early in December. At least 14 Masai were killed and many others seriously injured in a savage battle between two groups of tribesmen on the Kajiado plains only 50 miles from Nairobi.

Seven tall, languid moran were hauled into court where they unanimously denied charges of stealing 100 head of cattle and inciting the ensuing clash in which poisoned arrows were used. "We do not know anything about the charge against us," they asserted.

Resident magistrate P.A. Brar remanded the moran to jail for a hearing next April 30.

Kneya's vice - president, Daniel A Rap Moi, who also acts as home affairs minister, rushed police reinforcements to Kajiado and sent the local provincial commissioner to address a meeting of Masai tribal elders.

Kubiak To Head House Committee

AUSTIN

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale was named Friday by Speaker Price Daniel Jr. to be chairman of the important House Committee on Education.

Kubiak, a three-term legislative veteran, also was appointed by Daniel to membership on the influential State Affairs Committee.

Kubiak's appointment as head of the Education Committee makes him one of only 21 chairmen of major standing committee under the reform reorganization plan of the Texas House.

Kubiak, a former school teacher, hailed his appointment to the Education Committee chairmanship as "an opportunity to meet and resolve the challenges facing public schooling in Texas today."

"Because of the goals I have for Texas education, the job will not be easy," Kubiak said. "I want to see the Texas school system first in quality in the nation."

"But I recognize also that the Education Committee and the Legislature must wrestle with critical problems of school finance," Kubiak said. "I don't have any simple, pat solution to these problems at this time, but I am dedicated to finding a fair and new school tax base and increasing state supplements to our hard-pressed local districts."

Kubiak said also that he is a strong beliver in vocational-technical educations "as a means of insuring that every youngster has some saleable skill when he leaves high school."

In making the appointments, Daniel praised Kubiak as "an intelligent and hardworking House member who has earned both the Education chairmanship and the State Affairs membership."

The 34-year-old Kubiak, whose District 36 includes Falls, Milam and Williamson counties, noted that his chairmanship appointment "represents quite a rise and quite a refreshing change for a legislator who was without dispute the low man on the totem pole in the Mutscher days."

State Gets Fast Starting Legislature, New Governor

By Bill Boykin

Texas got a fast-starting legislature, a new governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the House all in eight action-packed days.

Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and William P. Hobby Jr. of Houston were inaugurated as governor and lieutenant governor in spectacular ceremonies Tuesday(Jan.16).

Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty won election as House speaker without opposition as the legislature convened January 9. The 31-year-old son of former Gov. Price Daniel (who now serves on the State Supreme Court) announced appointment of House standing committees four days after his election, and immediately referred bills for hearing.

Outgoing Gov. Preston Smith offered some good financial news to the arriving legislators. His $9.7 billion biennial budget proposal estimated a $300 million surplus for lawmakers to use in expanding programs or revising school finance formulas.

Governmental reform proposals backed by Daniel will be among the first bills to get House hearing. The House, with a minimum amount of opposition, promptly adopted the thick set of procedural rules the new speaker urged.

Smith in his swansong to the Legislature, advised that lawmakers move immediately to establish the constitutional revision commission directed by voters last November. He submitted as an emergency matter appropriation of funds to pay the commission's expenses.

The outgoing Governor further advised legislators ought to consider tackling the tough school finance system overhaul in a special session.

JOB COMMISSION URGED

Key legislative researchers recommended establishment of a governor's committee on equal employment opportunity in state government to police job discrimination.

A Texas Legislative Council staff report found blacks and Mexican - Americans under-employed in state government.

The report showed 79.92 per cent of state governmental employees are white and that they tend to hold higher paying jobs than the blacks and Mexican-Americans.

It recommended a six-member commission to report to the governor on employment practices and discrimination and to evolve policies and programs to encourage equal employment opportunities at all levels of government.

JAILS CRITICIZED

Texas Legislative Council urged creation of a commission on county jail standards, terming present laws on the subject "totally unrealistic and meaningless."

The Council's report said only five jails in Texas (those of Andrews, Lynn, Oldham, Smith, Taylor and Wichita counties) meet health department standards. The State Health Department inspcets jails but has no authority to compel compliance with its own standards.

TLC said the proposed commission should promulgate realistic standards and regulations and prohibit confinement of prisoners in those which do not measure up to them.

The Council also recommended a work-release program for jail prisoners, allowing inmates to post 10 per cent of their bond on condition it would be refunded when they appear for trial and immediate transfer to the Department of Corrections of inmates convicted of felonies and waiting action on appeal.

COURTS SPEAK

The Court of Criminal Apviction of Walter Lee Morris in the shooting of a Sherman police sergeant.

The same Court affirmed a two year probated sentence of a Houston youth for wearing the U. S. flag on the seat of his blue jeans, although it agreed two sections of the law on desecration of the flag are unconstitutional.

In the new ruling on contributory negligence laws, the Supreme Court held damages should be paid to the children of a woman killed in a collision with a negligent driver even if her husband was also partly to blame for the accident.

The High Court ordered a new trial in a suit by the widow of a man killed in a truck-train wreck at Floresville.

SENATORS DRAW

Sixteen state senators got four-year terms in a drawing which may decide the political futures of some. Fifteen others, not so lucky, drew two-year- terms and must face voters again in 1974.

Four-year terms went to Bill Braecklein of Dallas, Ron Clower of Dallas, Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Robert Gammage of Houston, Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio, Mike McKinnon of Corpus Christi, Bill Moore of Bryan, Walter Mengdone Jr. of Houston, Jack Ogg of Houston, D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur, I. H. Harris of Dallas, Grant Jones of Abilene, Bill Patman of Ganado, Max Sherman of Amarillo, Tati Santiesteban of El Paso, and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

Two year terms were drawn by Don Adams of Jasper, A. M. Aikin of Paris, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Chet Brooks of Houston, Jack Hightower of Vernon, Raul Longoria of Edinburg, Bill Meier of Fort Worth, Peyton McKnight of Tyler, W. E. Snelson of Midland, Jim Wallace of Houston, Nelson Wolff of San Antonio, Mrs. Betty Andujor of Fort Worth, Charles Herring of Austin, Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, and John Traegar of Seguin.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

It's not very often that I get off this johnson grass farm even to go into Cameron but last week I found myself flying half-way across the nation, no use saying which cities I visited, they're all pretty much alike, in fact, I looked at newspapers in five different big cities and each one of them had exactly the same news in exactly the same place--the New Orleans sniper story in the upper right hand corner of the front page, Henry Kissinger back in Paris in the left hand corner.

That's the difference between big city dailies and a paper like the Cameron Herald. Regardless of how many different towns you might visit this week, you won't find another paper with the same news as yours.

But what I started out to say was that I had heard that airplanes have replaced trains as a way of traveling and it's just about true.

All they need now to completely replace trains is a fat conductor in a shiny blue suit to waddle through punching tickets. They've managed everything else.

For example, airplanes can be as late as trains ever were and you can miss just as many connections. People sitting and staring at nothing in a airport waiting for a delayed plane look just like people sitting and staring waiting for a train in a depot. Airport sandwiches taste just like samdwiches used to and they cost a dollar apiece. Cold drinks 35 cents. And as for losing luggage, the aviation industry has mastered that as well as the best of trains.

After you finally get on plane at a big airport it takes as long for it to taxi to a runway for take-off as it took a train to get out of a station. One of mine taxied for 18 minutes. Of course airplanes don't have any sidings to wait on while another one, late itself, comes by, but they've matched that by circling overhead for an hour and 45 minutes, along with 20 others then when it landed I discovered I had to wait 30 minutes for a crowded bus to take me to the other side of the terminal two or three miles away to wait another hour for another plane. I could have walked faster but didn't know the way.

As I see it, air travel is fine if you're the President of the United States or Prime Minister of England and can take off from home and land where you're going without having all those other people in the way.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Parents Lure Children From Group Communes

By Bruce Russell

SAN DIEGO

Parents, alarmed by defection of their children to Jesus group communes, are using kidnap tactics and brainwashing to win the youths back.

The counter-brainwashing sessions known as "de-programming" take place in hotels here, with parents often sleeping across the childrens door to stop them fleeing back to communes.

One Pennsylvania man whose daughter went through a two week de-programming session after seven months of commune life, said:

"De-programming really starts kids to thinking again. It shows them where they were wrong and stimulates their interest again."

But the method is bitterly attacked by the Jesus organizations. Mrs. Susan Alamo, whose "Christian Foundation" in the Los Angeles foothills has been a constant target of parental kidnap raids says:

"The things they are puting our people through are a nightmare. They are absolutely held prisoners, subjected to brainwashing 24 hours a day."

The "Jesus" organizations grew up after the decline of the hippie communes. Their fundamentalism was at first welcomed by parents as a method of weaning youth from drugs and Charles Manson-type communes.

But the methods of groups like the "Children of God", whose converts chant religious slogans much of the day and break off all contacts with their parents, caused a parental backlash.

A parents group called "Parents to Free Our Sons and Daughters from Children of God" was set up in San Diego in 1971.

This organization claimed the youths were having their mail censored and telephone calls monitored. They also alleged that on rare occasions when the parents could get to the children other members of the sect stood behind whispering in the children's ears.

The Children of God countered by filing a 1.1. million dollar slander suit against the parents organization.

In the counter-brainwashing program begun by parents, youths are locked in a motel room with their parents and five to ten de-programmers for one day to two weeks.

"The technique is to make the youngsters recognize they haven't been using their brains," says Mrs. Ila Meese, a San Diego grocer's wife who nearly lost her daughter to a Jesus group and is one of the de-programming team.

"We want to help these kids. They're in bondage," she says. "Their minds have been taken over by some one."

Leaders of the parents organization say the first act of "de-programming" is to take away the Bible, which is the symbol binding the youths to their old commune lifestyle.

To get their children to the "de-programming treatment some parents have been forced to use tricks like inviting the children to dinner and carrying them off to San Diego.

But some families have gone to greater extremes. Two brothers from a Los Angeles family took guns into the Alamo commune and forced their brother Milton, 20, to leave at gun point.

Reaction of the youths when thay are taken to the hotel is often violent, members of the de-programming team say.

One 23-year-old woman locked herself in the lavatory of her motel room for hours on end, screaming at her instructors that they were devils. She chanted scripture whenever they tried to talk to her.

Grass Tetany A Danger In Cattle's Winter Grazing

OVERTON

This is the time of year when lactation or grass tetany is commonly found in beef cattle, according to Dr. Randall Groms, area livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Lactation tetany is a disease brought about by nutritional stress and can be prevented by proper management and nutrition. The disease is particularly prevalent if cattle are grazing lush winter pastures such as ryegrass or small grain, but has also been diagnosed in cattle grazing dead bermudagrass or being fed hay. The disease is more prevalent if pastures have received high rates of fetilizer, particularly large applications of chicken litter.

Lactation tetany is most common in cows with young calves, but may affect cows prior to calving. It may also appear in young cattle grazing pastures which have mineral imbalances. The disease most commonly occurs in cows that are more than five years of age, two to six weeks after calving, on cool cloudy days or after a drastic change in weather.

Symptoms include trembling, staggering, extreme nervousness, convulsions, falling or coma. If the animal stays down more than 12 hours, death is almost certain. Frequently, the animal is found dead without any symptoms being observed.

Much research has been done on the disease. It is thought that the mechanism by which the disease is triggered involves extremely high levels of potassium in the plant which interferes with magnesium absorption.

Magnesium is an important catalyst in the metabolic functions of the animal's system. When magnesium is not available, the system for producting energy is blocked. Lush green plants are high in potassium and generally low in magnesium. Even though the plant may have adequate magnesium to meet the animal's requirements, the high level of potassium can inhibit the absorption and metabolism of this magesium. Applications of dolmetic limestone or limestone high in magnesium have not been effective in controlling this disease.

Several methods are available for controlling lactation tetany. The main idea is to get one to two ounces of magnesium oxide into each cow each day. This can be accomplished by using grain or mineral supplements containing high levels of magnesium. Numerous commercial supplements containing high levels of magnesium are available.

"A mix that has been successfully used for cattle on winter pasture consists of equal parts salt, cottonseed meal, bone meal and magnesium oxide," Grooms recommends. Animals will normally eat about four ounces of this mix per head per day, thus obtaining the one ounce of magnesium oxide. "Animals not on winter pasture, but receiving only hay and dry standing bermudagrass, should receive the same mineral mix with one part sodium tripolyphosphate added," Grooms said.

The mix should be fed from November through April. Care should be given that animals receive the mix for at least two weeks prior to being turned on winter pasture.

The herd should be checked often and if symptoms are observed, immediate veterinary treatment is necessary to save the animals.

Farm Union Fights For FHA Program

The Farmers Union today continued its fight to save the Farmers Home Administration's emergency loan program in 243 Texas counties.

Jay Naman, state president of the farm group, announced that he has written the White House urging that the federal government "live up to its promise to farmers that the program would continue through June 30, 1973."

Naman said, "We applaud the reversal announced by President Nixon and Secretary Butz in honoring those applications for emergency loans which had been filed in the county office prior to December 27 but which had not been processed by the Temple office; however, we still believe that there are hundreds if not thousands of farmers who had not filed for emergency loans which have been deprived of their rights and guarantees by these broken promises."

The Administration announced December 27 that it was suspending the Farmers Home Administration emergency program in 243 Texas counties.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Grain Sorghum Meeting Set

By Bill McCutchen

The Milam County Crops Committee and the Milam County Farm Bureau are cosponsoring a grain sorghum meeting Monday night Jan. 22nd at 7:30 p.m. in Thorndale. The meeting will be held in the High School Cafeteria in Thorndale, and all area producers are welcome to attend.

Ben Speers, Extension Agronomist, Don Parks, Extension Economist-management; and Douglas Buck, ASCS Executive Director for Milam County will be on the program.

Spears will speak on grain sorghum varieties, fertilizer placement and time of application, chemical week control including materials and application, and will discuss the pro's and con's of using Di-system or other systonies granules for early season greenbug control.

Parks will cover the economics of farm storage of grain sorghum; and grain sorghum production management.

Buck will be present to answer questions on the new feed grain program. financing farm grain storage, and other such tipics.

All of these are timely topics and it will be well worth your time to attend.

COW-CALF CLINIC

I would like to encourage Milam County Cattlemen to consider attending an area cow-calf clinic Friday, Jan. 19th at the Brenham Livestock Austion at Brenham.

The program will begin at about 9 a.m. and end at 3:45 p.m. There is a $5.00 registration fee which includes a meal and proceedings.

Dr. O. D. Butler will be the moderator and the program will include "Here Today-Where Tomorrow," John Beverly; Genetic Improvement--Herd swine selection-Dr. Randall Grooms; Heifers from weaning to calving-Dr. Jerry Cowley; Brood Cow Foundation Farge-George D. Alston; Filling in the gaps-Supplemental Feeding-Dr. Dennis Herd; Putting it all together-Marris Swayne.

No pre-registration is necessary and everyone is welcome to attend.

624 Cowboys Enter Show

FORT WORTH

A record 624 cowboys have entered the Fort Worth Rodeo, scheduled in conjunction with the 77th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 26 through Feb. 4.

W. R. Watt Jr., Stock Show general manager, said the entry list includes all five present world champions, plus 64 former world champion cowboys.

Rodeo contestants will be competing for a share of a record $97,525 in prize money. Cowboys represent 31 states and three Canadian provinces.

Planning to compete are 73 bareback bronc riders, 72 saddle bronc riders, 33 bull riders, 213 calf ropers, and 182 steer wrestlers. Also, the wild horse race will have 30 three-man contesting.

Included in the champion list will be Phil Lyne of George West, Texas, reigning all-around world champion and calf roping champion. Lyne, who generally contests in all major rodeo events, has entered only calf roping here.

Gause News

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

The news here in Gause this last week was the same everywhere else around... cold, rain, freezing ice and snow. Of course the snow was a new experience for my children as well as others. Wayne and I even got out Thursday and helped the children build a snow man. It lasted until Saturday. Kelly thought since we had snow we shoud have "Santa Clause" again.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith McWilliams of Hearne visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ditto.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Gandy spent last weekend in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Koye Cass visited last Sunday afternoon in Lexington with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cass, Dwayne, Lisa and Carmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gene Miller and Regina of Milano visited last Sunday night with the Wayne Lees.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gene Mr. and Mrs. Louie Lange were expected to go to Houston over the weekend for Mr. Lange to enter the hospital there Monday afternoon for a checkup.

Mr. and Mrs. Byran Goode and Ermalee got moved into their new home right before Christmas. It is in the addition back of the school.

I read an article that states that a nightcap of a glass of warm malted milk before retiring is better for sleeping than a sleeping pill. I don't have the sleeplessness porblem, but maybe some of you that do would like to try this remedy.

Elm Creek Authority Sets Election

The Elm Creek Watershed Authority will hold a director's election on February 6 at the Red Ranger Store located on Farm Road 437 where it intersects with Farm Road 940 from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Directors seeking re-election are Robert Dana, Robert Hoelscher, Frank Kratochvil, and Reuben Mikeska.

Anyone wishing their name to be placed on the ballot needs to make formal written request to the Secretary of the Board, Frank Kratochvil, Route 1, Box 311, Cameron, Texas.

The regular monthly meeting which is held on the second Thursday of each month was called off in January because of bad weather. The Authority will meet January 18 at 7 p.m. in the farm office adjacent to the Edward Coufal residence on Farm Road 3117, Route 3, Temple, Texas.

Farmcast

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Up, up and away? . . . Sheep On Feed Declines . . . Rice Quota Vote Set . . . One Million Visitors . . .

At first glance, it might appear that farm prices are "up, up, and away". Although prices to farmers do show increases, production costs are also rising so the net result is not as rosy for agricultural producers as it could be. Remember, too, income in rural areas is still about a fourth under the rest of the economy.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that Texas farmers received price increases for almost every commodity recently. Only calves and sheep are above effective parity, however.

Calf prices at $47.40 per hundredweight are $1.60 per hundred pounds above parity. Sheep at $12.30 per hundredweight are $1.20 per hundred pounds above parity. Beef cattle at $34 are $4.20 under effective parity. Hogs at $29.50 are more than $2 under effective parity.

Crop prices show an even greater parity discrepancy. Cotton at 21.2 cents per pound compared with an effective parity price of 57.20 cents per pound. Grain sorghum at $2.79 is below effective parity by 65 cents per hundred pounds.

Egg prices at 50 cents per dozen are up eight cents from a month ago, but still almost eight cents below parity.

The index of all farm products was 20 points above last month and 13 percent above a year ago.

Farm production index prices paid by farmers was up seven percent from a year ago.

A 22 PERCENT decline in sheep on feed is noted in Texas. Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 90,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter on Jan. 1. This is 22 percent under a month ago, but five percent above the number on feed this time last year.

Current intentions to market are: January 50,000; February 32,000; and March 8,000. Marketings during December were 58,000 head.

COMMERCIAL slaughtering plants in Texas produced 194,000 pounds of meat during November, which represents a decline of six percent from the previous month, but nine percent above the total produced in 1971.

Nationwide, production of red meat was one percent above a year earlier.

RICE allotment for Texas for 1973 is 516,132 acres. Nationwide, the rice allotment was increased 10 percent. A referendum will be held among producers Jan. 22 to 26 to determine if marketing quotas will be in effect. Two-thirds or more of the rice growers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas to make them effective.

TEXAS livestock interests will be represented during the annual Mexican National Livestock and Industry Exposition in Mexico City Jan. 20 to 28. More than 1,000,000 visitors are expected to attend the activities.

Texas will have three exhibit spaces at the exposition. A total of 14 breed associations in the state will be represented. The Houston Livestock Show and the San Antonio Livestock Show will also be involved. The Mohair Council of America will be in charge of a display of textiles.

The Texas Department of Agriculture marketing personnel will be in charge of the entire Texas exhibits.

San Gabriel News

By Mrs. Ralph Heisch

The Milam Baptist Association Worker's conference will be at the San Gabriel Baptist Church January 22. The program will be "Evangelism."

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Clark and John of Houston visited his mother Mrs. Hazel Clark this weekend.

The J. C. Payne family of Round Rock were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDaniel. They celebrated the eighth brithday of Calvin by enjoying cake and ice cream. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pervis Black.

Mrs. Hugo Linke called Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Worley of Seagraves this week. Lefus is still in the hospital there with the infected leg. But hoped to be released over the weekend.

Rev. and Mrs. Bob Wimberly were in Fort Worth January 15-17 to attend the Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference. Mrs. Wimberly's father, George Shine, of Houston was here for several days visiting and to stay with the Wimberly children while their parents were in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Bob Evans and sons Travis and Chandler of Caldwell visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart Sunday and Monday. Sunday afternoon they all visited the Kenneth Caffeys, Sherry, Stuart and Rebecca at Salty.

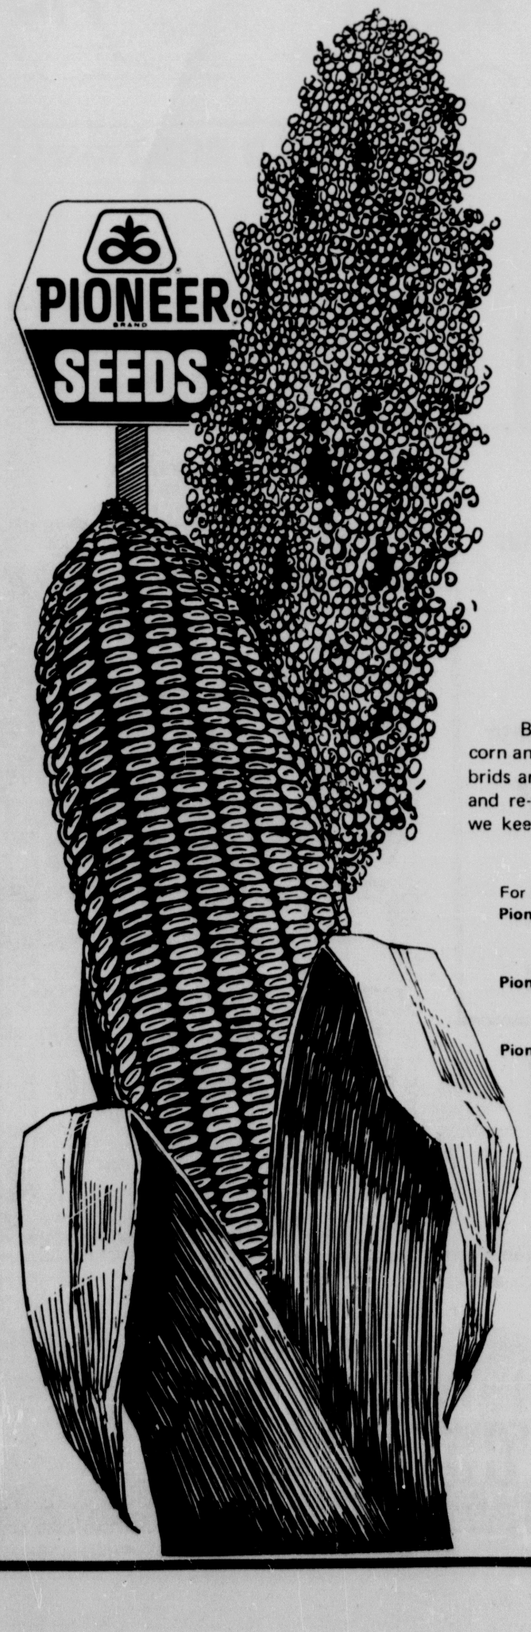
Miss Mary Frances Camp of San Marcos visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Camp this weekend.

The weather has been the news headline here this past week. With over a week of freezing, sleeting and to top it off from 2 to 3 inches of snow. "Beautiful" if you could stay inside looking out, Today Sunday all is back to normal.

On Tuesday evening January 23 at the San Gabriel Baptist Church the film "For Pete's Sake" will be shown at 7 p.m. If you have not seen the film don't miss this opportunity, Jan. 23, 7 p.m.

Mrs. Ike Camp was in San Antonio last Saturday.

Mrs. Jim Stewart and Mrs. Hugo Linke visited in Rockdale Saturday afternoon with their aunt, Mrs. Claude Mullins and Mr. Mullins.



We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

Henry Canzales recorded a yield of 3,683 pounds per acre with Pioneer 846. He liked the way it stood in the field and says, "It threshed real well." It'll be Pioneer 846 again next year for Henry Gonzales, Rt 3, Box 171, Cameron, Texas.

J. A Looney planted Pioneer 8417 and got a yield of 4163 pounds. He was well pleased with the way this yellow endosperm produced. Pioneer will be the choice again next year for J. A. Looney, 1907 N. Jackson, Cameron, Texas.

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For Central Texas we recommend these sorghum and forage varieties . . .

Pioneer Brand 846 –
excellent drouth resistance – MDM resistant – a full season hybrid – our most popular sorghum variety

Pioneer Brand 848 –
excellent grain quality – short, strong stalks – good roots – excellent thresher – full season hybrid – good resistance to smut and MDM

Pioneer Brand 988 –
sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage – ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month – regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all . . .

Form 1040 U.S. Individual ... Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q- My son earned nearly $2,000 last year. Does he have to file a Federal income tax return?

A- If you son is single, you are not claiming him as a dependent and he did not have self-employment earnings of $400 or more, he does not have to file a return because his gross income is less than $2050. However, if you or someone else could claim your son as a dependent and he had income from dividends, interest or other types of unearned income, he must file a return if his gross income was at least &750. He must also file a return if he had net self-employment earnings of $400 or more.

Of course, he should file a return to claim any refund due him for income tax withheld.

Q- I have all my tax records. Can I file without My Form W-2?

A- No. A withholding statement, Form W-2, for each job held during 1972 must be attached to your return. Failure to do so delayed the refunds of many taxpayers last year.

Q-I plan to go to a comcercial tax preparer to have my 1972 return filled out. Is he responsible for any errors on the return?

A-No. Each taxpayer is responsible for the accuracy of his Federal income tax return, no matter who fills it out.

If you do use the services of a tax preparer this year, be sue he signs your return and enters on the form his social security number or employer identification number.

Q- Is it true that this year taxpayers can designate $1.00 of their tax to to the presidential election campaign fund?

A- Yes. This year, taxpeyers, at their option, may designate $1.00 of their taxes ($2.00 if a joint return) to go to the political party of thier choice or to a nonpartisan general fund.

The check-off is made on a separate form---IRS Form 4875---which is included in your tax forms package, and not on the Form 1040 itself. If you want to designate a dollar for the fund, complete the Form 4875 and attach it to your Form 1040. If you do not wish to earmark money for this purpose, do not file Form 4875.

Q- What do you mean by "adjusted gross income"?

A- This is the total income that appears on line 17 of your Form 1040. Adjusted gross income is arrived at by subtracting business expenses and certain employee expenses, such as sick pay, moving expenses, etc. from your gross income. For most taxpayers, however, adjusted gross income is equivalent to their total income.

This year, your Form 1040 instructions contain a glossary of frequently used tax terms to make it easier for you to fill out your return.

Q- Are medical insurance premiums deductible in full?

A- If you itemize deductions, you may deduct in full one-half of the amount you paid for medical insurance, up to $150. The balance of your premiums is added to your other medical expenses. Only your medical expenses in excess of three percent of your adjusted gross income are deductible.

For more information, contact your Internal Revenue office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 502, "Deduction for Medical and Dental Expenses."

DALLAS SYMPHONY Area Development Director Bob Alexander accepts Alcoa Foundation check for $1,000 from Hal Reagan of Alcoa with Cameron Mayor Gene Blake looking on. Presentation of the check was made at a luncheon for orchestra members and officials at Methodist Fellowship Hall Tuesday.

City Hosts Symphony Officials

Dallas Symphony Orchestra members and officials appeared ready to plan a return engagement in March 1974 after a day of good food, good audiences and a touch of local color in the form of Cameron's popular German folk dancers.

First stop for the orchestra Tuesday morning was Methodist Fellowship Hall where members of the First Methodist WSCS served lunch to the 60 plus group who had traveled from Dallas by chartered bus.

A standing room only crowd of area students gave close attention to a 45 minute afternoon concert and over 500 from Temple, Rockdale and Cameron gave the orchestra and Conductor Ansil Brusilow a standing ovation following a two hour program that evening.

Symphony officials became 'audience' at a post-concert reception in the Cameron Public Library where Cameron's popular German folk dancers entertained.

Friends of the Cameron Public Library and the Cameron Chamber of Commerce were co-hosts for the post-concert reception. Serving Wassail punch, traditional cheese, coffee and cookies were Miss Chris Laws and Mmes. Gene Blake, Don Humble, Dan McDaniel, Bill McCutcheon and L. W. Stroup.

Childrens Movie Sat.

Childrens Matinee Movie, sponsored by the Arts and Service League of Cameron will be at 3 p.m. Saturday, January 20, at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Admission price for the childrens feature film is 35 cents.

'Intangibles' Is Program For DKG's Brunch

Beta Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met for a brunch, Saturday, January 13, at 9:30 a.m., at The Texan Restaurant in Cameron, with the Cameron members as hostesses.

Mrs. Herbert Nance of Cameron, chairman of Personal Growth and Services Committee, was program leader for Program NO. 2 "Intangibles That Fuse a Culture." She emphasized the individual as the key to intangibles in values and ideals.

Mrs. Coy Arledge of Cameron spoke on "Identification," stressing creativity, especially in art. She showed examples of Vue D' Optique, a new art form that seems three - dimensional and is made from prints.

Mrs. A. M. Tate of Marlin took "Loyalty" as her topic and showed the necessity of unity of spirit in obtaining it. She used the letters in "Loyalty" to give the characterisitcs of a good teacher -- looks, organization, youth, advancement, love, trust, and YOU.

Mrs. Joe Clark of Rosebud used "Pride" as her topic and showed that it can be too much and achieve arrogance, or too little and have loss of esteem. "There should be the proper amount of pride to accomplish harmony in one's work with students," she said.

Mrs. Arnett Zelisko presented the music in the form of a skit, with the help of Mrs. Herbert Nance and Mrs. Roy Hensley.

Mrs. F. E. Bayless of Rockdale, vicepresident, presided over the business session, which included a report from Mrs. Joe Clark of Rosebud, chairman of the Scholarships Committee.

Miss Eulalah Brown of Rosebud, custodian of Volumes I and II of OUR HERITAGE, brought the copies to be distributed to members.

Mrs. A. M. Tate of Marlin, chairman of Necrology, read a memorial from the State office for Mrs. Lorette Halleck, former Delta Kappa Gamma State Chairman of Programs, recently deceased.

Thirty - three members were present. The next meeting will be in Marlin, February 3, at 9:30 a.m., for a brunch, with the Marlin members in charge of arrangements.

ENGAGED - Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Jeter of Cameron announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gail, to Mr. John Glass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glass of Cameron. Miss Jeter is a graduate of Yoe High School, attended Sam Houston State University, and is employed at Bernice's Dress Shop. Mr. Glass is a graduate of Yoe High School and of Southwestern State College at San Marcos. He is employed with his father in Cameron. A March wedding is planned.

Dependable electric power... You expect it.

We deliver it.

Dependable electric power is taken for granted by most Texas Power & Light Company customers... and has been since we began business more than 60 years ago. You expect it. We deliver it.

Hundreds of thousands of times each day... 365 days a year... TP&L customers flip a switch, push a button or turn a dial and electric power goes to work in homes, businesses, industries and on farms and ranches.

But dependable electric service doesn't "just happen." More than 3,000 TP&L people perform many specialized jobs to produce and supply the power needed today and to plan and build the facilities necessary to keep pace with the ever-increasing power needs of ever-increasing numbers of customers.

Yesterday... today... tomorrow, dependable electric power from Texas Power & Light Company. You can count on it.

IT'S A FACT: During the past twenty years, the costs of many materials and items of equipment purchased by Texas Power & Light Company to produce and supply electric power have risen more than 100%.

Football Players Long Hair Blamed For Some Injuries

SASKATCHEWAN

Football players' long hair and helmets help cause injuries, according to a university physical education instructor here who is conducting a study of football mishaps.

"Helmets are causing more injuries than they are preventing," Malcolm Cant, trainer of the University of Saskatchewan football team said in an interview. He recommended abandoning their use.

"If they didn't wear helmets, guys wouldn't smack their heads together and there would be fewer neck injuries," he said. Cant said many coaches teach players to use helmets as a "battering ram."

He added that "long hair may be a factor. The helmet doesn't fit snugly on long hair."

With support from the National Research Council, Cant is in the second year of a 10-year study of the causes, types and frequency of injuries suffered by the Saskatchewan football squad. He records the type, anatomical invovlement and immediate treatment of all injuries as well as referalls to the team doctor and the length of time players are disabled.

"I've always been of the opinion that there were too many football injuries and that a lot of them can be avoided," he noted.

After the first year of the study, Cant made suggestions that helped reduce injuries in 1972.

Blisters were the most common injury in 1971. Cant suggested breaking in shoes during the summer rather than when training camp started. The new policy reduced the number of blisters reported, he said.

Eighty per cent of all injuries in 1971 were suffered in training camp, the study revealed, so players were given individual training programs during the off-season.

Last year's analysis also revealed more training camp injuries occurred in the first session of the day than in the second and third sessions, so the first session in 1972 was devoted to basic conditioning exercises rather than body contact.

Cant also would like lighter shoulder pads because the heavier pads are used as tackling weapons, like helmets.

He suggested players keep moving until the whistle blows, even if they are away from the ball, because a number of injuries occur when they stop moving and are hit.

He said he wanted shoe manufacturers to pay more attention to ankle support. "They're trying to sell fast feet instead of support around the ankle. As a result, the kids are suffering," Cant said.

Nine out of 10 sprains occur at the ankle bone "where there is no support," he said.

Yoemen Sccore District Wins

The Cameron Yoemen edged over Copperas Cove Friday, January 12 61-48 for the second district win of the season.

Johnny Hull of Copperas Cove was high scorer of the game with 18 points. Dell Henderson, also of Copperas Cove, scored 15 points.

The Yoemen took the lead in the second half after a halftime score of 22-26.

Sam Ellison and Jackie Chubb were high scorers for the Yoemen. In the second half Sam Ellison completed 8 free throws out. Jack Chubb completed 5 field goals and 2 free throws.

John Barron and David Hollas totaled 6 points each. Barron made 4 FG and FT while Hollas completed 2 FG and 2 FT

Pat Schguit also scored 6 points with the completion of 2 FG and 2 FT.

On January 5 the Yoemen played their first district game with Lampasas in which they came out the victor 63-42. Steve Carroll of Lampasas was high scorer of the game with 13 points.

The Yoemen took the lead early in the game and led 18-6 in the first quarter. 30 - 16 was the half - time score.

Jackie Chubb was high scorer for the Yoemen with 11 points, gained by the scoring of 5 field goals and 1 free throw.

John Barron and Pat Scheguit each gained 9 points, and both did so by completing 4 FG and 1 FT.

David Thomas, David Hollas, and Sam Ellison made 3 FG and 2 FT each for 8 points each.

Will Turner netted 9 points with 3 FG.

David Hornung and George Whiteside both scored a FG and made 2 points.

Doors Of Yoe

The students of Yoe High enjoyed an unexpected holiday Wednesday and Thursday when a coat of ice covered the area. Margaret Zajicek tried to sit on the edge of Sandra Cobb's pickup during the bade weather. The truck hit a bump and Margaret flew into the air but instead of landing back of the side of the truck she took a minor fall to the floor of the pickup. Last report has it that she CAN sit down.

Saturday night the house of Mr. Dodson was covered in white, but snow was not the cause. Someone gave our superintendant a year's supply of tissue paper, but none of it remained on the rolls.

Sports Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray

ONLY A YEAR?

What a difference a year can make!

At this juncture, 12 months ago, the Dallas Cowboys were the reigning monarchs of the Super NFL. And, some were foolishly talking about a Cowpoke Dynasty, ala Green Bay under Vincent Lonbardi. It was a brief reign---Also, one year ago Bob Devaney's Nebraska Cornhuskers were being called the greatest college football Dynasty ever put together. No less an observer than Paul (Bear) Bryant, whose Nationally Second-rated Alabama Wishbone was mangled, 38-6, in the Orange Bowl, agreed

"There is no doubt in my mind that Nebraska is the best college football team I ever saw."

Well, things did not look particularly promising for all others in college football. Nebraska was returning virtually everybody and it was said its' '71 Frosh could have finished in the Top-Ten. You now know the 1972 Cornhuskers had heels-of-clay, just like everybody else. In Devaney's last year on the job, the Big Red Monsters lost to UCLA, to Oklahoma and were tied by amateurish Iowa State. They not only did not rule college football, but failed to even win their own conference. Non January, 1973, it is USC and Oklahoma they are saying can't miss ruling collegiate football.

AGGIES ON RISE:

One year ago, in the Southwest, Darrell Royal's University of Texas Longhorns were being written off. Arkansas was the immediate beneficiary of the Burnt Orange demise. But, the Texas Aggies were to be breathing on Frank Broyles' talent-glutted Razorbacks' heels. For, hadn't the Aggies pulled a coup by spiriting away UT Backfield Coach Emory Bellard, "The brains behind the Wishbone." ? And, didn't the Brazos Bottom squad bristle with even more quality athletes than Bellard left to Royal at UT?

Hadn't Royal, with Bellard, managed to lose, 31-6 to Arkansas and take a couple Cotton Bowl bruisings, 24-11, by Notre Dame and 30-6 at the hands of Penn State? Texas was fresh out of Super Runners and even average quarterbacks. It was Goodbye Darrell, Hello Frand and Emory.

Twelve months later, Royal and UT are still around, having sacked a fifth straight Southwest Conference Championship and turned that Cotton Bowl embarrassment bit over to Bryant and his favored Crimson Tide, 17-13.

RICE WOULD NOT GO BACK

One year ago, Rice was threatening to sue Bill Peterson, its football coach, because he was breaking his contract to coach the cross-the-street Houston Oilers. Now, most Oiler fans would like to sue Rice for letting him get away...Twelve months ago UT had an almost conch three-year run of Larry Robinson, the 6-7 hotshot who just happened to be the best basketball player ever recruited in the SWC. Larry, of course, never got to open a '73 SWC game, having been lost for his junior year last week with a broken knee cap...A year ago, Rice could not get a coach of any sizeable reputation to accept the job Perterson left behind. So, Dr. Norman Hackerman hired a member of Peterson's old staff to take his place. Fellow named Al Conover. After Conover's Owls defeated Broyles' Arkansas Razorbacks, Bellard's Texas Aggies, Bill Yeoman's Houston Cougars, scared heck out of LSU, Georgia Tech and Tech, Owl fans say the Oilers are welcome to keep Mr. Peterson.

One year ago, some cat named Rudy Feldman, accepted Baylor's football head coaching job. Then, the New Mexico mentor immediately backed out as the guffaws rumbled across college football. Then, the Waco Baptist turned to an abject unknown, hiring Angelo's Grant Teaff. He accepted, turned the Bears around, has 'em headed to the Top and was voted "Coach-of-the year" by sports writers and fellow coaches. Some are saying he's the hottest new college head coach since Darrell and Frank in the late fifties.

Twelve months ago, Ara Parseghian was talking and Hayden Fry recruited his own son for Southern Methodist. Twelve more months?

Strutting across the ice, penguins make a comically pompous picture. They are at once dignified and ridiculous, and if we look at them very long, they remind us uncomfortably of ourselves!

We, too, are apt to mass together on occasion and to be, perhaps, a little ludicrous in our efforts to be "part of the scene." Sometimes following the leader may, indeed, be the best thing to do. But it can also be the easy way out.

Today, especially, we need the courage of our convictions. We need to stand up for what we truly believe in. We need to do the important things.

Like going to church.
